

XL Brands/Bostik does not recommend, approve or warranty the use of any of our adhesives over concrete substrates that have been treated with ANY type of silicate material, whether topically applied or entrained into the concrete mix.

XL Brands/Bostik recommends that all substrates be tested and validated before application. If you are in doubt, have a reputable company perform testing and provide analysis for your records.

XL Brands' Technical Department may be contacted at 800-367-4583 for further questions. This document supercedes all previous warranties expressed or implied considering silicates.
